The Little Falls Bridge.

A meeting was held at Lewensville precinct, Fairfax county, Virginia, on the 3d May, to take into consideration the propriety of reopening the communication between that section of Virginia and the markets of the District of Columbia, via the Little Falls of the Potomac. The secretary read to the meeting a petition to Congress. which had been previously circulated for signatures, praying for aid in the reconstruction of the bridge at the foot of the Little Falls. It was resolved that they had heard with deep concern that an effort was being made by a portion of the citizens of Georgetown and Washington to abandon rebridging the Potomac at the foot of the Little Palls; that it is confidently believed that fifty thousand dollars would be ample for that point, and that the structure could be completed in from three to four months, if an appropriation could be speedily obtained; whereas to construct a bridge at any of the other points talked of would require at least two years, and it does, our path shall lie onward and upward. the cost independent of the new road on the We will neither fail nor falter. the cost, independent of the new road on the Virginia shore, would be as three to one in favor appointed to confer with the citizens and authorities of Georgetown and Washington, D. C., and to take all necessary steps to carry out the objects set forth in the foregoing. This committee consists of Com. Thos. Ap C. Jones, John Powell, James Crombie, Henry C. Taylor, John Gilbert, Wm. Swink, W. W. Ball, and A. L. Brent.

THE DAILY AMERICAN TELEGRAPH.

OUR SECOND YEAR! One year ago this day was issued the first number of the AMERICAN TELEGRAPH. We were then assured by many intelligent citizens of Washington that it had already been fully demonstrated that such a paper could not live here. and that ours could not exist three months; while cautious men of business assured us that if we should succeed in sustaining it, then they would give us their support! The predictions of the former have proved baseless—the wish that was father to the thought has not been realized; and the promises of the latter have not

Cut off from all hopes of the kind of patronage on which other papers of this city fatten-en-countering the overwhelming competition of Washington papers supported by the government pa-tronage, and the newspapers of Baltimore, that derive their support from a commercial and manufacturing population of one hundred and eighty thousand persons—proscribed in official places—avoided by timid men in office—opposed by the concerted influence of a portion of a respectable religious communion, upon a pretext en-tirely baseless—without the influence in the community of connexions and friends to defend us from the adroit opposition of interested competitors,-we have yet maintained our position, and to-day stand before our fellow-citizens preared to serve them faithfully, fearlessly, and ndependently.

We have no favors to ask. We have respect and good-will toward the people of this commu-nity, and intend to merit theirs in return. But we shall not do this by flattering their follies, or appealing to their sympathies. When such a course as this becomes necessary to insure success, we shall not be ashamed to fail. But until

Now for a few familiar words. Why do we not Virginia shore, would be as three to one in favor sell our paper as cheap as the Baltimore papers of the Falls passage. A committee of eight was are sold? is the frequent question. We reply, Because we are not in Baltimore-because a con mercial city of one hundred and eighty thousand people can yield an amount of advertising cusnot to be obtained in a community of forty thousand people who do their shopping in Balti-

Do their shopping in Baltimore! Yes, by wilful and unreasonable opposition to the only cheap paper of their own that ever could survive ights, the business men of Washington give all the aid in their power to promote the interests of Baltimore merchants here. The Baltimore papers contain Baltimore advertisements; and the people of Washington compile their memoranda from such advertisements, send their orders to Baltimore, obtain their goods there, and thus make our own storekeepers pay a well-merited penalty Would we proscribe the papers of Baltimore? By no means. We regard the morning as flat and dull that does not bring them to us. We are willing to encourage their circulation here. They should bring light and knowledge to every home and place of business throughout our whole city Every one should rejoice in the facilities they afford. But the extensive circulation of a Washington afternoon paper, with the advertisements of Washington business people, should preserve us from the temptation of sending to Baltimore for those commodities which can as well be obtained in Washington. It was with special reference to this that we commenced an afternoon paper. We knew the advanages offered by the penny press of Baltimore—we ap-preciated them fully; we did not wish to come in conflict with them. We intended not to cross the path of those journals; and we believed our purposes would be approved by our own people.

By many they have; but not by all. So far from this, we seriously doubt (call it egotism if you will!) that there is another man in Washingon who would have clung to an enterprise a the writer of this has adhered to that upon which he had embarked—laboring without present re-compense, and with but feeble hope for the future; and even, from bitter necessity, submitting to a transitory public misapprehension of his true position in particulars of the most serious

But away with the past. The present around us, and the prospect before, are what now con-cern us. We have no revenges—no regrets. We have no enemies that we know of, and care not a dime for any that are unknown. We intend to labor on, to improve with increasing means, to stand by our friends, to make them many, to stifle no sentiment, to sacrifice no opinion, to conciliate no bigot, to flatter no money-worshipper, to bow before no official upstart, to sanction no public or private wrong, and in general to live honestly, soberly, democratically, and peaceably, and die only when our time shall have come.

If, therefore, any of our fellow-citizens shall feel inclined to give us kind words of encouragement, and to render us kindly aid, at the commencement of this our second year, we cordially invite them to our office. We will greet them at the threshold with a friendly welcome, endeavor to make a good return for all the benefits we shall receive at their hands, and preserve them from all future regrets that such has been their MARCH 24, 1852.

WILMINGTON BOARDING SCHOOL
FOR BOYS.—This institution is situated in one of the healthiest parts of the city of Wilmington, entirely beyond the settled portions of the town. The uniform healthfulness of the location may be inferred from the fact that, since the establishment of the School, about twenty-eight years, very few cases of scrious indisposition have occurred among the pupils, and not a single death either here, or from diseases contracted while here.

The course of instruction includes, besides the ordinary English branches, Natural Philosophy, Cheaistry, Physiology, History, Rhetoric, the various branches of Mathematics, and the Latin, Greek, and French Languages. Particular attention is paid to the higher Mathematics and their application to Mechanics and Engineering; the latter and Surreying are taught practically by faid operations, with the use of appropriate instruments. Lectures on Natural Philosophy and Chemistry, in which all the important principles are illustrated by experiments, are regularly delivered before the students.

As the object is to make the instruction as thorough and practical as possible, no expense has been spared in providing suitable apparatus. It is believed that, in this respect, the Institution will compare favorably with any similar one in the counity. A carefully selected library, of more than one thousand volumes, containing works on the various branches of Literature and Science, furnishes ample reading matter; while a Laboratory, fully supplied with apparatus and tosts, contains all that is necessary for practical instruction in Chemical Manipulation.

The school year commenced on the third Second-day (Monday) of the Ninth month, (September,) and is divided into four quarters of cleven weeks each, leaving a vacation of two months, from about the middle of the Seventh month (July).
